TO HELP PAY THE CHURCH DEBT.

The "Tin Wedding" of the First Presbyterian Church Last Night Brought Out a Great Deal of "Tin."

A. K. Rodgers shook hands with everybody that came to the First Presbyterian church last evening and guided them safely to a table a short distance from the door. R. R. Gemmel sat on a chair on this table with a bushel basket in front of him.

Almost everyone dropped money into the basket as he passed, and the clink of the silver played an accompaniment to the conversation.

When the money was counted—it was found that $550 had been received. This, together with $100 that the church has in the bank, and about $30 in pledges, makes $680, that will be applied on the debt on the church. Judge N. C. McFarland made a proposition to the church that if $1,000 was raised by the congregation to be applied on the debt, that he would see that another $1,000 would be forthcoming.

It was for this purpose that the social was given last evening. It was especially appropriate as it was the tenth anniversary of the laying of the corner stone.

The church presented a gay appearance with the Christian Endeavor emblems displayed about the auditorium, and there were fully 800 people present. Mrs. J. D. McFarland read an interesting history of the church. Her father, the Rev. John A. Stevens, was the first pastor of the church, which was organized in 1833. He remained in the pastorate five years.

He was succeeded by Dr. John Ekin, who was with the church two years. After this Dr. F. S. McCabe was called, and served as pastor for 14 years.

For two years after the resignation of Dr. McCabe, Rev. Henry W. George was pastor.

Dr. E. C. Ray was the pastor of the church for four years, after which the present pastor, Rev. S. B. Alderson, was called. Dr. Alderson has been there three years, and his efforts in building up the church have been very successful.

The first church edifice was built in 1861 on the lot now occupied by Dignon's furniture store. The next building was the stone church on Eighth street, now known as Music hall.

From there the congregation moved to the present handsome edifice on Harrison street.

J. B. Larimer made a few remarks, which were pertinent to the occasion, and the guests were invited to partake of coffee and cake in the church parlor.

Dr. E. C. Ray sent a greeting to the church and expressed regrets that he could not be present at the anniversary.

Prof. H. S. Wilder played a well selected pipe organ solo in his usual artistic manner. Mrs. Geo. Parkhurst and H. V. Hinkley each sang solos that were appreciated.

The latter part of the evening was spent in conversation and a general good time.

It was a very pleasant affair, and was enjoyed by a good many people.

Let us remind you that now is the time to take Dr. Witt's Sarsaparilla, it will do you good. It recommends itself. J. K. Jones.

Last Games of the Whist Club.

At the home of Miss Myra Williams last evening the Whist club closed the season by sharing their pleasure in the game with the gentlemen.

Lunch was spread on small tables on the lawn, and the ladies invited to partake of the dainties were Mrs. W. A. McCarter, Mrs. M. Bosworth, Mrs. H. E. Ball, Mrs. M. P. Hillier, Mrs. W. A. L.
